ASCM NEW YORK -LONG ISLAND FORUM

OUR MISSION

With over 60 years of experience bringing together professionals, educators, and students, our forum, ASCM NYC LI, using the APICS full body of knowledge, is in the forefront of imparting training and learning in the supply chain and operations environment.

Through professional development meetings, online lunch, and PowerLearn Series - as well as our Supply Chain Briefs podcasts - ASCM NYC LI has a long history of supporting local young professionals interested in pursuing Supply Chain as a professional.

Professionals have an opportunity to engage through a variety of events, including Meet a Mentor and Student – Professional Meet and Mingle where a graduating student may meet their next employer.

We also provide scholarships to deserving students of five university chapters throughout the year and maintain student chapters in several colleges.
